COURT APPOINTED SPECIAL ADVOCATE (CASA)

The CASA Program, which stands for Court Appointed Special Advocate, recruits, screens, trains and supervises volunteers to advocate for abused and neglected children involved in the court system to help secure a permanent, safe home. CASA volunteers are appointed by a judge to work first, last and always in the best interest of the child at the heart of a case.

MEASURING OUR IMPACT — EVIDENCED BASED OUTCOMES

CASA of Weld County participates in Colorado CASA and its statewide Outcomes Project. This project focuses on measuring outcomes to answer the question "How are CASA volunteers changing the odds for children?" Colorado CASA's response to this issue is to provide outcomes where meaningful change is measurable, sustainable, linked to the program's efforts and there is accountability for results.

DARKNESS TO LIGHT, STEWARDS
OF CHILDREN®

The 2-hour video-based presentation can be given to any community group but is particularly fitting for individuals who work directly with children. It is a nationally distributed, evidence-based program that aims to educate adults to be responsible for preventing, recognizing, and reacting to child abuse.

CHILD ADVOCACY CENTER

The Child Advocacy Center provides a child-focused environment to gently support child victims of sexual and physical abuse and their non-offending family members. The Center encourages a coordinated response to the investigation, prosecution and treatment of child abuse.

MEASURABLE OUTCOMES

The Outcome Measurement System (OMS) helps CACs evaluate their programs in order to increase the quality of services provided to children and families and to improve the collaborative efforts of the multidisciplinary team (MDT) members. OMS allows Children's Advocacy Centers to report on two measurable outcomes:

1. The CAC facilitates healing for the child and the caregivers. Recent Results: 99% of caregivers believed that their children felt safe at the center.
2. The MDT approach results in more collaborative and efficient case investigations. Results: 95% all members of the MDT, as defined by the needs of specific cases, are actively involved.

DARKNESS TO LIGHT, STEWARDS OF CHILDREN®

It encourages awareness but also teaches skills and presents crucial tools needed in order to respond appropriately to child abuse suspicions, allegations, and investigations. It ultimately aims to protect all children in our community.

We are grateful for one-time and repeat financial gifts that support our work and enable us to forensically interview more child victims and train more CASA volunteers as advocates for kids. Each donation of $250 or more earns a Colorado Childcare Tax Credit. Cash donations can be made online at lifestoriesweld.org

During this unprecedented year for all of us, we are so incredibly grateful to our board members, volunteers, community partners, donors, sponsors, and friends of Life Stories for all your support over the years, especially during this one! With the onset of COVID-19, no one could have imagined the dramatic changes to which we would all have to adapt. Many things have changed. But one thing that has not changed is that we have continued to make a difference in the lives of children. Our program staff, professional partners and volunteers have been able to pivot to serve children and families in some different ways.
